FIFA Players Get Real Player Motion Technology with FIFA 22 New Skill Controls Enable Players to Express Themselves on the Pitch Major change to Double Team button: removes need to press two buttons consecutively for a double team; enables players to simply press a single button to get a double team Accurate and dynamic player movement: FIFA 22 player body models, animations and player collisions use data from a real high-intensity football game played at the highest simulation speed on the pitch, as recorded in a motion capture suit and with the aid of 25 cameras; each body part is simulated independently and accurately from an anatomic perspective - with a low amount of mesh points. A complete set of full-body actions that enable players to express themselves on the pitch, as well as responding to contact, using the strength of their bodies and the authentic timing and intensity of their movements, complete the highly acclaimed Precision Dribbling. Players can also execute the new Jump-Slide movement to dodge opponents' challenges. More Dynamic Player Interactions The world of football continues to get more realistic and unpredictable with many new interactive elements, including, but not limited to, the following: Intelligent momentum: players react dynamically to contact, meaning the ball changes direction and players make unpredictable movements to evade and exploit space. More on-pitch, off-ball interaction: in addition to actions such as explosive speed changes and juggling the ball with kicks and dribbles, players can now play the ball with their feet - using their agility to improvise and create unexpected outcomes. Players' movement in dynamic scenarios: when players interact with each other in dynamic and unpredictable scenarios - using tactics to keep opponents on their toes and catch them off-guard - they will react faster, but also move more erratic, making it difficult for defenders to predict where they will move next. Dynamic & Realistic Gameplay in Real-time FIFA 22 features several innovative gameplay systems, enabling players to shape their team's attack, defense and strategy in real-time while on the pitch. These new systems include: Real-time Shot Control: run the build-up, control the flight of the shot and alter the position of the goalkeeper to make it easier for the goal kick to land in a more accurate position. Live Shots: using technology from Let's Play, the new

The new FIFA 22 Futcher allows you to compete in friendly matches with your friends; go head-to-head online with up to 4 opponents, and even give your avatar a new look. A bit of an optimisation. Launching a FUT Draft with multiple teams, I would enter team names into the sides of the boots before clicking on the boots. It took about 6 attempts to get my first team fully constructed, a couple of hours into the process. I received a few problems along the way; for example, I had to create teams in a temp folder when the FUT Draft Window insisted on opening to a new page of the website. I had to move the temp folder to the main temp folder, but even then, some errors would keep it from letting me select a team name. I'd have to restart the FUT Draft to select a team name. Once the draft was created and you selected a team for the game, the game did not appear to be constructing the new team. The game would still progress as if the draft was already created; in some cases, it would not even switch to the draft screen. Trying to get
